Textbooks are symbols of centuries-old education. They're often outdated as soon as they hit students' desks. Acting "by the textbook" implies compliance and a lack of creativity. It's time to ditch those textbooks—and those textbook assumptions about learning In Ditch That Textbook, teacher and blogger Matt Miller encourages educators to throw out meaningless, pedestrian teaching and learning practices. He empowers them to evolve and improve on old, standard, teaching methods. Ditch That Textbook is a support system, toolbox, and manifesto to help educators free their teaching and revolutionize their classrooms.

This standard is applicable to the determination of epichlorohydrin in food contact materials and products (plastics, paints, paper and cardboard) and the determination of the migration of epichlorohydrin. The high performance liquid chromatography (HPLC) is suitable for the determination of epichlorohydrin in food contact materials and products (plastics, coatings, paper products). The gas chromatography-mass spectrometry is suitable for the determination of the migration of epichlorohydrin in food contact materials and products (plastics, coatings, paper and cardboard).

Provides information on building a standards-based curriculum that uses leadership teams and a collaborative observation process between teachers and principals.
